

IMMIGRATE TO CANADA : SELF-EMPLOYED (BUSINESS CLASS)

How to Qualify for Canadian Permanent Residence – Self-Employed (Business Class)

Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) selects business immigrants based on their ability to become economically established in Canada.

Canada has three categories of business immigration, Investors, Entrepreneurs and Self-Employed.

More information on how to qualify for Self-Employed Business Class

To qualify as Self-Employed: Applicants must have the ability to create their own employment and contribute to the cultural, artistic or athletic life of Canada, or, to create their own employment by purchasing and managing a farm in Canada.

How Can Abrams & Krochak Help Me?

- Nearly 100% of our clients are granted access to Canada.
- We are one of the largest full service immigration law firms in Canada
- Working with a Canada immigration lawyer will significantly speed up the application process and get you to your new home sooner

What's Next?

Find out if you Qualify for Canadian Permanent Residence.

Answer a few simple questions and we will tell you if you qualify as a business immigrant

FREE ELIGIBILITY ASSESSMENT

Introduction

Business class immigration allows self-employed persons that have the intention and ability to create their own employment and make a significant contribution to the cultural, artistic or athletic life of Canada to immigrate to Canada. Self-employed persons with a Canada immigration visa also have the option to purchase and manage a farm in Canada.

Only immigrants who have been self-employed in cultural activities or in athletics, or have participated at a world class level in cultural activities or in athletics or have farm management experience are eligible within the class.

Other business immigrants with more generic business abilities will be required either to meet the Entrepreneur or Investor definitions, to qualify as skilled workers, or to be selected as provincial nominees.